Promised Presents Have Not Arrived About a dozen or more Richmond grocers are under the impression that they have been swindled out of 25 cents each under very peculiar circumstances. Some time ago they were called upon by a young man, who claimed that he was young man, who claimed that he was a drummer, representing himself to be the agent of large wholesale tea-houses in Harrisburg and Pittsburg, Pa. He explained that his firm wished to introduce some new brands of tea into Richmond, and proposed to leave a quantity of sample packages for free distribution with the storkeepers. He not only did with the storekeepers. He not only did not require any orders, but said that his house would send a nice stand-lamp or comething of the kind as a present to each concern distributing the packages. After making a deal he asked for a billhead of the firm, explaining that he was anxious that no mistakes should be made about the address. These bill-heads he carried around from store to store, displaying them as evidence having done business with reputable merchants. He only exacted 25 cents from each merchant to pay for transportation on the present. None of the gifts have yet arrived.

All young men are cordially invited to attend these meetings and take part in the debate, whether they intend to become members or not. The question to be debated next Saturday night is as follows: "Besolved.
